BETTER RESEARCH. BETTER LEARNING. BETTER INSIGHTS.

ProQuest is trusted by government libraries for resources that lead to extraordinary discoveries. Through a comprehensive process of curation, simplification and connection, we enable users of all skill levels to:

- Monitor current news and developments in a rapidly changing world
- Pinpoint hard-to-find data
- Analyze the latest research and its implications
- Make informed decisions and chart new strategies

EBOOKS

Government Complete™ is a subscription collection that offers government employees the breadth and depth of trusted titles from publishers like PennWell, Wiley, Betham Science Publishers and IMF.

ProQuest Ebook Central, developed through analyses of librarian and user workflows, is an intuitive platform that delivers titles from top publishers worldwide.

- 1,000,000 titles (100,000 added annually)
- 1,500 imprints and 750+ publishers
- 10 language options

With Ebook Central, users can…

- Discover new content by searching and receiving relevancy-ranked book and chapter results. Book-level abstracts along with highlighted search terms make it quick to skim the results and decide which books to explore.
- Evaluate titles using the book landing page. Detailed description, bibliographic info and table of contents contribute to a simpler workflow.
- Access books online or use offline reading options including DRM-free chapter downloads, and full book downloads.

New! Access-to-Own (ATO), available exclusively on Ebook Central, is a usage-based acquisition model that helps libraries offer diverse ebooks while investing in owned content that delivers better ROI.

- Increased availability to frontlist content with over 30,000 titles embargoed from short-term loan and over 350,000 titles in total.
- Greater affordability because costs are incurred only on loans, and loan fees are applied to the price of the book.
- Guaranteed access by preventing turnaways when paired with Extended Access.

STATISTICAL DATA

Statistical Insight Collection is a carefully curated and easily accessible collection of millions of full-text reports and statistical tables produced by U.S. federal agencies, private organizations, and major intergovernmental organizations.

Statistical Abstract of the United States is both a ready-reference answer book and a guide to statistical sources. It contains over 1,400 curated statistical tables covering every aspect of American life.

Statistical Abstracts of the World aggregates the statistical abstracts of approximately 40 countries and makes the content available through a single-search interface.

International Datasets is a unique collection of international, national, and difficult-to-find subnational data highly sought after by business, economics, social science, and multidisciplinary researchers.

MULTIDISCIPLINARY

ProQuest Central brings together many of our most popular databases to create the most comprehensive, diverse, and relevant multidisciplinary resource available. All major subject areas – business, health and medical, social sciences, arts and humanities, education, science and technology and religion – are covered through thousands of full-text scholarly journals, newspapers, magazines, dissertations, working papers and market reports on an award-winning platform.

ProQuest Dissertations & Theses Global (PQDT) is a remarkable resource for libraries involved in all areas of scholarship. This continuously expanding database provides direct access to more than 2 million full-text graduate works in virtually every subject area, with more than 4 million A&I records from 3,000 universities worldwide. For the researcher, deep coverage and extensive bibliographies uncover sources and ideas that might otherwise be missed. Cross-referenced access to scholarly content across the library's online service enhances the research experience. PQDT is designated as an official offsite repository for the US Library of Congress.

Research Library provides an international mix of scholarly, professional, and consumer periodicals covering over 150 subjects, including business, the sciences, medical, technology, literature, the arts, and history.

HEALTH AND SCIENCES

Health Research Premium Collection serves diverse users with timely journals, evidence-based resources and full-text dissertations. Collectively, this resource provides the widest breadth of aggregated health and medical content in the world – including MEDLINE, a bibliographic database produced by the U.S. National Library of Medicine with millions of citations derived from thousands of biomedical and life science journals.

BMJ Best Practice provides healthcare professionals with reliable, up-to-date information to support diagnosis and treatment decisions. Distributed by ProQuest exclusively to federal agencies, BMJ Best Practice combines the latest research evidence with guidelines and expert opinion – presented in a step-by-step approach – covering prevention, diagnosis, treatment and prognosis. This gives researchers a second opinion in an instant, without the need for checking multiple resources.

SciTech Premium Collection is a multidisciplinary database of scholarly and learned materials in the natural sciences, technology, engineering and related disciplines. Faculty and students alike will find comprehensive coverage from thousands of full-text titles including peer-reviewed journals, trade publications, books/ monographs, conference proceedings, reports, newswires, video and much more. Prestigious STM publishers like Springer, Wolters Kluwer, and Elsevier contribute to this collection.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Social Science Premium Collection delivers more than a dozen databases covering international literature in politics, public policy, sociology, social work, anthropology, criminology, linguistics, library science and education. Unlike similar packages, it not only includes journal content but also offers many specialist full-text publications, including dissertations, country reports and grey literature.

CultureGrams™ provides concise cultural and statistical snapshots of every country recognized by the United Nations. Local experts document the intimate details of each country's customs, protocol, traditions, and daily life, with unique perspectives on culture ranging from attitudes, greetings and gestures, to the arts, recreation, daily diet and more.

LAW AND GOVERNMENT

Legislative Insight makes available professionally researched compilations of digital full-text congressional publications relevant to enacted U.S. public laws. Each fully searchable history includes the full text of the public law itself, all versions of related bills, law-specific Congressional Record excerpts, House and Senate documents, and committee hearings, reports, and prints. Part A offers 18,000 histories of laws enacted from 1929-2012. Part B offers histories for 9,000 additional laws, focusing on those enacted 1789-1960. Starting with 2013, a new collection is released each year containing laws that were passed in that year.

Regulatory Insight 1936-2016, and 2017 editions, is the companion to Legislative Insight and Supreme Court Insight, works alongside Federal Register (FR) and Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) content. FR articles are compiled by human editors into regulatory histories associated with Public Laws and Executive Orders. Unique Agency compilations allow users to research FR articles according to the CFR Parts over which each Agency has jurisdiction, and to link between historic and current agencies with related jurisdiction. Includes direct links to histories in Legislative Insight and related Supreme Court cases for entitled customers.

Supreme Court Insight offers records and briefs from 1975–2016/2017 term with dockets; petition and merit stage briefs, including amicus curiae briefs; oral argument written transcripts and opinions. Unique features and functionality facilitate search and retrieval by case name, subject, court of origin, Justice, name/organization on briefs, and more. Each case is presented on a dynamic case history page that allows the researcher to work with all content associated with the case. Cases histories for cases directly related to a Public Law include links to histories in Legislative Insight and Regulatory Insight for entitled customers.

Supreme Court – Certiorari Denied complements Supreme Court Insight by chronicling cases that the Court did not hear. No other online source exists for this complete collection. Certiorari Denied 1975-2017 will be offered in two parts. Part 1, 1997-2017 (December 2017) will allow users with access to Supreme Court Insight to compare the cases heard versus those that were not. Certiorari Denied will include subject indexing, court of origin tagging, and all of the other functionality available on Supreme Court Insight. Researchers who have access will also be able to link through to Legislative and Regulatory Insight, providing a full picture of the legislative and judicial processes and the links between them.

Digital National Security Archive, the result of the teaming of ProQuest with National Security Archive, preserves and widens access to a trove of important declassified U.S. government documents, providing vital primary source material to advance research in contemporary history, politics, and international relations. Now topping more than 650,000 pages, DNSA delivers crisply digitized and curated content in 50 topic-based collections, each led by subject-area scholars to ensure the material provides the most discerning coverage.

Visual History Archive

ProQuest is proud to partner with the USC Shoah Foundation to offer the Visual History Archive (VHA), a fully streaming video collection of nearly 55,000 primary-source testimonies of survivors and witnesses of the Holocaust and other crimes against humanity. The largest archive of its kind, VHA preserves history as told by the people who lived it, with each testimony offering insight and knowledge rarely available in traditional content. The vast majority of the testimonies contain a complete personal history of life before, during and after the interviewee's firsthand experience with genocide.

Visual History Archive offers multiple pathways to learn across time, locations, cultures and sociopolitical circumstances. The streaming archive – digitized and fully searchable – uncovers related ProQuest content owned by the institution. With 64,000 indexing terms, 1.85 million names, and 712,000 images, researchers can retrieve whole testimonies and segments to the minute.

Trench Journals and Unit Magazines of the First World War collects rare magazines from the Imperial War Museum, The British Library, Staatsbibliothek zu Berlin, and the Library of Congress. Published by and for servicemen and -women from 1914 to 1919, these periodicals are now available to everyone, with 50,000 pages scanned in full color or grayscale, and with granular indexing of all articles and specialist indexing of publications.

NEWS

US Newsstream is the researcher's choice for current content – from the New York Times, Chicago Tribune, Los Angeles Times, Wall Street Journal, Washington Post, CNN Newswires and the Huffington Post – and archives that stretch back into the 1980s. Full-text sources include newspapers, newswires, journals, television and radio transcripts, blogs, podcasts and websites. There are no paywalls, and most content loads same day, often by 8 a.m. US Eastern time. It also offers over 80 Gannett regional newspapers and includes hundreds of other local, regional, and national titles from throughout the U.S.

Global Newsstream delivers influential resources from around the globe, from today's news to backfiles dating back to the 1980s. This collection combines ProQuest's U.S. Newsstream, Canadian Newsstream, and International Newsstream into one of the largest collections of news from five continents. Many citation formats are available, and articles can be translated into 13 languages.

Historical Newspapers empowers researchers to become eyewitnesses to history. From leading issues and events to local and regional politics, arts, business and sports, these fully digitized pages reveal the day-to-day coverage – plus photos, classified ads, obituaries, editorial cartoons and more – that track issues over time and provide meaningful primary-source content. More than 45 newspapers cover U.S. city newspapers, historical Black newspapers and other subject areas.

ALEXANDER STREET COLLECTIONS FOR GOVERNMENT LIBRARIES

Enhance researchers' awareness and appreciation of global, cultural, ethnic and anthropological topics via highly curated, unbiased, media-rich collections from Alexander Street, a ProQuest company.

Anthropological Fieldwork Online is a landmark project that digitizes and makes available for the first time, together and online, the previously unpublished fieldwork of renowned anthropologists such as Bronislaw Malinowski, Ruth Benedict and Margaret Mead, revealing how they created and shaped the methods and theories that are still taught today. Content is global in scope and focuses around each ethnographer's prominent expedition field experience, with inclusion of notes, journals, images, correspondence and other documents.

The Anthropology Commons is a long-range project to digitize and make freely available important archival content in this field. The collection begins with the papers of anthropologist Ruth Fulton Benedict, who published Patterns of Culture in 1934, a major comparative piece that integrated her own work and others'. Anthropology Commons offers, free to all, 8,000 pages of Benedict's notes from field expeditions in the U.S. Southwest in the 1930s.

Ancestry Library Edition is the product of a partnership with Ancestry.com to offer libraries unparalleled coverage of census, vital, church, court and immigration records spanning the United States, as well as collections from Canada, United Kingdom, Europe, Australia, Mexico, and other areas of the world. With nearly 9 billion records in more than 8,000 unique databases, this collection is essential to a broad genealogy collection.

Fold3 Library Edition by Ancestry is now distributed into library markets worldwide as a premier collection of more than 400 million historical U.S. and international military records. Invaluable on its own for supporting history and genealogical research, Fold3 Library Edition is also a rich enhancement to Ancestry Library Edition.

BUSINESS

ABI/INFORM Collection is comprised of ABI/INFORM Global, ABI/INFORM Trade & Industry, and ABI/INFORM Dateline. Thousands of full-text journals, dissertations, and working papers join key business and economics periodicals such as The Economist and Sloan Management Review, country-and industry-focused reports, and major news sources like the Wall Street Journal. Its international coverage gives researchers a complete picture of companies and business trends around the world.

Border and Migration Studies Online helps researchers understand today's world through primary-source documents, archives, films, and ephemera related to significant border events and areas around the world from the 19th to the 21st centuries—U.S. and Mexico, India and Pakistan, the EU, Eastern European borders, and dozens of others. At completion, the collection will include 100,000 pages of text, 175 hours of video, and 1,000 images.

RESEARCH SUPPORT

ProQuest Dialog® lets searchers of all skill levels find, organize, and share premium content in a single interface – including the industry's leading biomedical, engineering and patent sources.

Pivot® is the most comprehensive, streamlined resource for finding global funding sources, coupled with acclaimed scholarly profiles to match financial support to researchers and partners. Beyond connecting researchers to funding opportunities and collaborators, Pivot allows users to share and communicate these matches with their colleagues.

Pivot Gallery leverages the Pivot tools to let your library create a website that showcases the talent in your organization.

Summon, the service that searches your entire collection to facilitate faster and easier research, continues to evolve with improvements to relevance ranking, topic explorer, and database recommender; integration with Ex Libris Alma (2017), a new 360 Core E-Journal Portal/A-to-Z user interface and more.

RefWorks is a premier reference management service that supports researchers and libraries alike. Whether they write an occasional paper or are experienced scholars, users of RefWorks find a streamlined, dependable and accurate experience with distinct benefits:

- Breadth of add-ins—Google Docs, Dropbox integration, Office 365, Write-N-Cite, iOS and Android are all supported to enable work on multiple devices.

- Versatility—As the only browser-based product, RefWorks provides a consistent platform from mobile to desktop.

- Multiple citation styles—In addition to 4,000 available citation styles, an integrated citation manager allows users to define custom styles.

- A safe way to save research—No syncing required! PDFs, PowerPoint, Word, and Excel are supported so all research and data can be managed in one place.

- Support—Live and recorded webinars, training videos and dedicated tech support—all at no extra charge—help users get the most out of RefWorks.

Better research. Better learning. Better insights.
