Curation Provides Context

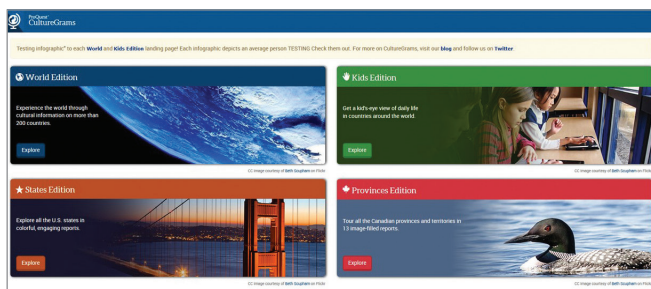

ProQuest complements authoritative and comprehensive collections of information with experienced editorial judgment to offer students valuable context for starting a wide range of research assignments.

CultureGrams®

Named “Must-Have Database for School Research” in School Library Journal

A leading reference for concise and reliable cultural information on the countries of the world, this must-have database provides country reports that go beyond mere facts and figures to deliver a one-of-a-kind perspective on daily life and culture, including the background, customs, and lifestyles of people across the globe. With global events increasingly affecting our lives, it's more important than ever to educate students about the world around them and to prepare them for college and the world beyond.

Individual reports covering 200+ countries, all 50 United States, and the Canadian provinces, are written and reviewed by in-country experts and are updated as new information becomes available, so you can be sure you're offering only the most current information to staff and students.

Exciting new features include an upgraded text-to-speech feature, mobile-friendly interface, “average person” infographics, and the ability to save directly to Google Drive and Google Classroom.

eLibrary®

Named CODiE Award Finalist, 2019

Delivering one of the largest collections of periodical and digital media content editorially selected to support novice researchers, eLibrary helps simplify the research process. It empowers novice researchers to more easily and efficiently choose their research topic and find authoritative information to support their research claim.

eLibrary can be accessed via a graphical product interface or via the award-winning ProQuest unified platform, assuring fit-for-purpose use. The responsively designed user interface offers access on any device at any time and users can cross-search eLibrary with other ProQuest databases, improving database usage and return-on-investment.

More than 11,000 editor-created Research Topics pages deliver the essential elements on a vast array of people, places, historical events, and eras. Researchers can access primary and scholarly sources, and all content is in 100% full text from 2,000+ magazines, newspapers, transcripts and digitized reference book content, including more than seven million images, maps, websites, videos, and interactive simulations.

Educators and librarians can use the state and national standards search to locate standards-aligned articles and other resources, which saves teachers time in the lesson planning process, and ensures that library resources are correlated directly to learning benchmarks.

Primary Sources

Newspapers are an essential primary source for students and early researchers:

Students Can Explore Perspectives Across the Span of Time

Coverage spans decades for in-depth insights into how stories and perspectives evolved. Search and browse local and regional views, to find people and events where they happen, when they happen — making news coverage the first documentation of history as it unfolds.

Key Source for Missing Historical Information

Newspapers are an excellent record of fine points and facts that are overlooked elsewhere.

Cover to Cover Searchable Access

Beyond feature articles and breaking stories, newspaper editorials, advertisements, cartoons, obituaries, and classified ads provide valuable primary source information and contextual understanding.

User-Friendly Platform and Search Experience

Our newspapers are cross-searchable with all other content on the ProQuest platform for a broader scope of research insights across multi-format sources. Additionally, full-text and color images easily downloadable in PDF format.

ProQuest Historical Newspapers™

ProQuest Historical Newspapers provides definitive coverage of historical events from more than 50 newspapers dating back to the 18th century. Students can experience centuries of history from popular titles including The New York Times, The Boston Globe, Chicago Tribune, Wall Street Journal, Washington Post, Los Angeles Times, Black Historical Newspapers collection, including Chicago Defender, New York Amsterdam News, and Pittsburgh Courier, among other titles, and international titles such as The Guardian and Jerusalem Post. Titles are available individually or as a part of six U.S. regional collections from the Midwest, the North Central, the Northeast, South Central, Southeast, and West.
